Unimportant?

Eighteen-year-olds were allowed to vote in a Wheeling, W. Va., municipal election last week, although the state law lowering the legal age for voting does not become effective until July 1. They are going to let the election stand, however, because the number of illegal votes "couldn't change the results."

This reminds us of the couple that (because the lady couldn't decide what to wear) arrived at a crucial baseball game in the ninth inning. The score was 0-0, and the wife-endeavoring to console her husband for their tardiness, said triumphantly, "See, dear, we haven't missed a thing!"

The connection is emotional, not logical.-Huntington (W. Va.) Herald-Dispatch

Revenue In Reverse

One of the fancy financial figures seldom cited by advocates of federal revenue sharing is the thumping sum of $401,650,000,000.

That is the amount of our national debt, the largest ever. Maybe the Nixon administration should be talking of debt sharing rather than revenue sharing.-Columbia (S.C.) State

Trend Is Older, Not Younger

So much concentration has been directed on the youth of our nation, and the belief that as our nation grows older its dominant population is getting younger, that the facts of the situation are confused.

It has actually been 50 years since half of the population was 25 or younger. While a more recent population trend approached that median age, a shift has now occured and its direction could last for as long as can reasonably be predicted.

By 1980, population experts tell us, the under 20-group will still be the same size it is today - about 78 million. Within that decade, however, the 25 to 35 age group will climb to 37 million from 25 million. Further the over-55 group will climb to 44 million from 38 million.

The concern over youth and the problems of youth should not cloak the reality that the nation's populace is getting older, not younger. - Wichita Falls (Tex.) Times

Blind Tourists Enjoy Hope Watermelons

Some 13 blind children, 11 counselors along with Director and Driver John Buck are shown enjoying Hope's famous watermelons Thursday at Fair Park.

The group from Tarrant Co. Association for the Blind, Ft. Worth, Texas, were enroute to Russellville and plan to visit Petit Jean, locks and dams along the Arkansas River and Dog Patch.

Harry Cagle, Hope Lions Club president, met the boys on behalf of the local club which provided the melon feed at the local park.

With the aid of counselors the youngsters are able to swim, fish, camp out and do many things.

Following the feed all rate Hope melons the very best.

Wants Probe of High State Food Prices

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Richard W. Longing, director of the state Commerce Department, proposed Thursday that a study be made of food prices in Arkansas.

Longing made his proposal in a letter to Gov. Dale Bumpers, suggesting that the matter be discussed at a cabinet meeting Tuesday.

He said his interest in the state's food prices was aroused by a recent survey of 10 U.S. cities that showed food prices in Little Rock were exceeded only by those in Honolulu.

"Something is wrong when food prices here, where we raise and process so much food, are as high as groceries at Honolulu," Longing said.

He suggested that Bumpers appoint a commission to make the study.

Ford Thinks Teachers Won't Lose

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Education Commissioner Arch Ford said Thursday that he did not believe teachers would lose salary increases that were planned before President Nixon's wage-price freeze.

Ford said he interpreted the order to mean that when the freeze was lifted Nov. 15 school districts would be allowed to adjust teachers' monthly checks to pick up extra pay they lost during the freeze.

Ford said, however, that he interpreted the freeze to mean that normal annual increments that most school districts give their teachers would be prohibited.

Says Training Placed 2,000 in State Jobs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) —Larry S. Brown, director of the Arkansas Industry Training Program, said Thursday the program needed a federal grant to continue at its present level.

Brown said about 2,000 persons had completed training for industrial jobs under the program since it began 18 months ago.

He said he hoped the program could secure a grant from the Ozarks Regional Commission.

The program trains unemployed and underemployed persons for jobs at new or expanded plants at no cost to the industry, with the idea that the persons who complete the training program will be hired by the plant.

Registration Rally Planned

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins said Thursday that a number of dignitaries had accepted invitations to attend a voter registration rally here Saturday.

Hawkins said among those who indicated they would attend were former Govs. Winthrop Rockefeller, Orval Faubus, Sid McMath and Ben Laney, the Arkansas congressional delegation, most of the state's constitutional officers, Walter Carruth, chairman of the American party in Arkansas and Charles Bernard, state Republican party chairman.

Hawkins said he hoped that Conway County would register more voters in the 18 to 21-year-old age group than any other county in the state.

With Single Candidate South Vietnam Faces Reduction in U.S. Aid

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam faced the threat today of a cut in U.S. aid because of the withdrawal of President Nguyen Van Thieu's only opponent in the presidential race.

The threat was underscored by Sen. Robert J. Dole, chairman of the Republican National Committee. He told reporters he had indicated to Thieu that there will be a critical reaction from Congress, which controls the purse strings.

The Kansan visited Thieu along with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker a few hours after retired Gen. Duong Van Minh announced his withdrawal from the presidential race, leaving the president the only candidate.

Minh charged that Thieu was rigging the election, set for Oct. 3. He said the campaign was being turned into a "dirty farce that can only make the people disbelieve in a democratic regime."

The U.S. Embassy expressed regret that Minh had withdrawn, adding, "Beyond that, we have no further comment." But unimpeachable sources said Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker had returned from Washington Thursday with a warning from President Nixon that it would be difficult to get Congress to approve more aid to the Saigon government if only one candidate is in the race.

The sources said Bunker conveyed this information to Thieu Thursday night and also to Minh in a futile, 11th-hour attempt to persuade the general to stay in the race.

Sources said the Nixon administration might elect to withhold or reduce portions of the aid program to forestall such a move by Congress. They suggested there might also be more pressure on Nixon to speed up the withdrawal of U.S. forces.

These threats might force Thieu to postpone or cancel the election, some sources said. But another said he thought this unlikely.

"I think that Thieu has already made up his mind," the source said. "He anticipated that he might be the only candidate and had apparently decided to ride it out."

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky was kept out of the race by a new election law requiring more endorsements on the nominating petition than he could muster.

Haze, Smoke Causing Poor Visibility

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Haze, ground fog and smoke caused poor visibility over a large portion of Arkansas this morning as a large high-pressure ridge is keeping a lid on the pollution rather than allowing its escape into the upper atmosphere as usual.

However, winds are beginning to shift to the south and southwest and some improvement in visibility is expected through Saturday.

With some moisture moving northward from the Gulf of Mexico, chances of a few thundershowers scattered over the state will increase Saturday. However, no precipitation was mentioned in the forecast for today.

The forecast through Tuesday calls for mostly fair skies.

Temperatures should inch upward through Saturday with highs predicted to be in the upper 80s to mid 90s. Overnight lows are expected to be in the low 60s to low 70s.

Thursday's highs were just a little warmer than the last few days—mostly in the 90s. Pine Bluff recorded the highest with 91 degrees, and Fayetteville was the lowest with 88.

Some Remarks That a Bartender Really Gets Tired of Hearing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a bartender gets tired of hearing:

"The trouble with me is—."

"Doesn't the house ever break down and buy a round?"

"I can whip any man in the place, and if he's an Englishman I can whip him twice."

"Murphy, you've had your hand in the till so long you ought to be able to afford to open up two joints of your own."

"What do you mean I've had my fill? They've never made enough of the stuff to give me my fill."

"Murphy, is that the third cockroach I've seen on the back bar since I came in, or is it the same one going around in circles?"

"Just line up 12 martinis in a row on the bar. I'm going to drown my sorrows or get awfully wet trying."

"Where'd you get the idea it was my turn? I bought the last round."

"Why don't you put a couch in the back room, Murphy, and moonlight as a psychiatrist?"

"What if I did drink three-fourths of the highball before I saw the lipstick on the rim? The way I see it you either pour me a free drink or I make a telephone call to the Health Department."

"I don't want to start any trouble, Murphy, but that little lady sitting at the corner table looks pretty lonely. Is it all right if I go over and try to cheer her up? What's that? Well, you don't have to lose your temper. How did I know she's your wife?"

"Well, I guess I've had all I need for the road. Show me which one of those cars out there is mine and I'll drive home."

"Murphy, did you hear the one about the convicted Irish rebel who tripped as he was being led up an English scaffold. He stopped, kicked the offending step and swore, 'These bloody Protestants will be the death of me yet!' Not bad, eh?"

Sentence of Calley to Be Reduced

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The life sentence of 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr., convicted of the murder of 22 civilians at My Lai, will be reduced by 3rd Army Commander Lt. Gen. Albert O. Connor, it was learned today from Pentagon sources.

The sources said an official announcement would be made later in the day from Connor's headquarters at Ft McPherson, Ga. The Army said it had no comment at this time.

It was not certain what the reduction in sentence would be but the new term is believed to be 20 to 30 years.

This completes the first step in the long review process in the Calley case. President Nixon has announced he will personally review the case and make the ultimate finding.

Calley is confined to his quarters at Ft. Benning, Ga., while his case works its way through the review chain.

With a 20-year sentence Calley could be eligible for parole after serving nearly seven years, about one-third of the time.

Eight Killed in Maine Plane Crash

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — A Downeast Airlines plane carrying eight persons crashed Thursday night in dense fog on an approach to Augusta State Airport. The Federal Aviation Administration said the pilot and two of his seven passengers were killed.

Police earlier had said that six persons died in the crash on a wooded peak some four miles from the Augusta airfield.

The twin-engine Piper Navajo had been on a flight from Boston to Rockland, Maine, but was diverted to Augusta because of heavy fog, the FAA said.

The pilot was identified by the FAA as Dwight French of Rockland.

The two passengers killed were not identified.

Injured were Caluse and Virginia Newes of Brussels, Belgium; their two children, Christian and Gabriella; and Jean Mahon, 34, of South Bristol, Maine.

A state trooper said the plane "chopped off some trees and ripped wide open."

The plane was last heard from at 9:40 p.m. State and local police began a search about an hour later and the plane was found about 2 a.m.

European Exchanges to Open Monday Without a Unified Agreement

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer

BRUSSELS (AP) — Britain and the Common Market countries agreed early today to reopen their foreign currency exchanges on Monday but failed to agree on a unified policy for determining the value of the dollar.

Differences between France and West Germany doomed agreement, and as a result Britain and the six Common Market members will arrange things separately on their exchanges.

A leading European monetary official predicted that none of the governments would continue to buy dollars to support the official exchange rate as they have in the past. But he said they probably would not let the rate fall low enough to ruin their export business or attract a flood of American goods made cheaper by the dollar's decline.

"They will come into the market," he said. "It just depends at what level we will be frightened enough to inter-

Governor of Texas to Defy Freeze

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith has defied President Nixon's freeze on wages, instructing state officials to give teachers and state employes pay raises scheduled to take effect Sept. 1.

Defiance of the 90-day wage-price freeze by the conservative Democratic governor was quickly denounced by the White House.

The President's Cost of Living Council, headed by an old political enemy of Smith's, Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, had ruled that the freeze applied to the salaries of state employes and to wage increases for teachers under contracts taking effect after Aug. 15.

Smith is scheduled to receive a $3,500 pay raise himself under a state employe pay increase effective Sept. 1. He succeeded Connally, also a Democrat, as governor in 1969.

"As governor of the State of Texas, I accept full responsibility for the actions taken by all state agency heads pursuant to this proclamation," Smith said Thursday at the state capi-

Home Down Payments to Be Lower

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Home Loan Bank Board has moved to reduce the down payment required under conventional home loans.

The board announced Friday it will allow savings and loan associations to accept conventional home loans with down payments of only five per cent.

"This board anticipates that these new conventional loans will be particularly useful to persons of moderate and low income who are seeking home ownership for the first time," said Chairman Preston Martin.

The loans will be limited to $30,000 and are for single-family dwelling units only, the board said.

In addition, the loans must be guaranteed or insured by mortgage insurance companies approved by the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp. or which have established a specified fund reserves.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A threatened walkout by Little Rock police patrolmen did not occur at the 11 p.m. shift change Thursday, but officers have warned of a mass resignation unless police get satisfaction by Sunday on four demands.

Unofficial sources within the department were quoted earlier Thursday as saying the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift would call in "sick" to protest the firing of three Little Rock policemen and the death of one of them.

Patrolman Raymond L. Miller, one of the three policemen fired Aug. 10 in connection with the alleged beating of two arrested burglary suspects, was found dead at his home Wednesday night. State Medical Examiner Rodney Carlton ruled Thursday the death was suicide.

The Little Rock Municipal Police Association has called a meeting for 2 p.m. Sunday and association President Bill Blynch said a mass resignation would be called for unless the demands were met.

The concessions include the suspension of Inspector R. D. Bently, whose office investi-

Living Costs Up But Rise Is Slower

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rise in Americans' living costs slowed markedly in July to an increase of two-tenths of one per cent—the smallest hike in six months, the government reported today.

The report, covering a period before President Nixon froze all wages and most prices on Aug. 14, said a decline in prices of clothing and transportation partially offset continuing increases for food, housing, medical care and recreation.

The report was issued amid a revolt by organized labor which complained the freeze covers all wages but not all living costs.

The July increase, only one-third the size of June's six-tenths boost, brought the government's consumer price index up to 121.8 of its 1967 base, meaning it cost $12.18 last month for every $10.00 worth of typical family purchases four years ago.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics also said average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers fell 35 cents to $127.22. This was still $5.77 per week above a year earlier, but after deducation for the year's rise in living costs was only worth 38 cents more.

AFL-CIO President George Meany and other top labor leaders have complained that workers suffered most from inflation and that the wage-price freeze would hurt them even more.

Living costs, the bureau's report said, were 4.4 per cent above a year ago, compared with a 5.5 per cent rise for calendar 1970 and 6.1 per cent the year before.

The bureau said grocery prices rose six-tenths of one per cent because of increases for pork, beef, fruit, vegetables, and sharp hikes for eggs, bakery and some dairy products.

Eggs and fresh fruits and vegetables are among items Nixon exempted from the price freeze both at the farm and supermarket levels.

Housing costs rose four-tenths of one per cent, including a two-tenths rise for rent and increases for mortgage interest, property taxes and insurance.

Rents now are frozen by Nixon's 90-day freeze, but interest rates and state and local taxes are exempted. The administration asked for a voluntary curbing by banks of interest rates during the freeze.

Folk Center in Trouble at Mt. Home

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. (AP) — Edward V. Nantel says he believes he was fired as project manager of the $2.1 million Folk Cultural Center at Mountain View because of financial problems of Advanced Projects Corp. of New York which is leasing the center.

Nantel said he was fired Aug. 6 after he pressed John Rossi, president of the company, to pay the firm's bills from local merchants.

Nantel said the firm owed about $1,000 to local business and he was due $7,000 in various expenses and back income tax payments. He has filed suit in Stone County Circuit Court to recover the money.

Nantel said he was fired after a meeting at which he told Rossi that the townspeople were upset about what the company was going to do regarding its debts.

Rossi said his firm had experienced minor financial difficulties, but the situation had been corrected. He said a Philadelphia firm had added financial backing to the project.

Ground breaking for the project, which has been in the planning stages for six years, is due as soon as the Economic Development Administration approves a final work order.

School Busing Delayed at CorpusChristi

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black has stayed full operation of a desegregation plan for Corpus Christi schools which would have included the busing of 14,500 pupils.

Black, acting as the justice presiding over the Texas district, held up Thursday part of a court order and let stand another part under which some 900 black pupils in the Corpus Christi school system will be reassigned.

Dr. Dana Williams, Corpus Christi school superintendent, said that with Black's order, school will open as scheduled Sept. 1 with no change from last year for Mexican-American and Anglo pupils. Williams said the district "was not pleased with the effect on black pupils and we will attempt to resolve this in the next few days."

Black's order is good until a ruling is made on the merits of the entire case by the Supreme Court, which reconvenes in October, or a lower court.

Williams emphasized the district remains under the court order to reassign about 900 black pupils. A maximum of 25 teachers will be reassigned to meet racial and ethnic balances, according to Dr. Leo Bradley, assistant superintendent for administration.

Black acted at the request of the Justice Department, the agency's first move since President Nixon disavowed a busing plan for Austin, Tex., schools proposed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

About 5 per cent of Corpus Christi's 46,000 pupils are black. The other 95 percent is divided equally among Mexican Americans and Anglos.

U.S. District Court Judge Woodrow Seals had issued an order earlier to effect a three-way racial balance by reassigning the 14,500 pupils.

U.S. District Court Judge Owen Cox had set aside part of Seals' order but Cox was overruled by the appeals court.

Corpus Christi school authorities say they can't afford purchase of the 109 buses needed to implement the court's order. They place cost at $1.7 million.

At present, Corpus Christi has no school buses.

Canada's Bid to Escape Tax Rejected

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government, clamping the lid even tighter on the nation's economic freeze, has barred longevity pay raises for the armed forces and retroactive pay hikes in labor contracts.

Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, President Nixon's chief economic spokesman, said exemptions will be the exception during the 90-day wage-price-rent freeze.

He said Thursday that rule also applies to foreign governments. He rejected Canada's bid to escape the new 10-per-cent import surtax and spoke out against favored treatment for British-made Rolls-Royce engines for troubled Lockheed Aircraft Corp.'s Tri-Star airbus.

Connally, whose Cabinet status makes him head of the new Cost of Living Council which issues guidelines during the freeze, reversed the Defense Department's previously stated pay policy.

For 2.7 million men and women in uniform, that means giving up an estimated $12 million in automatic pay boosts based on their rank and length of service, ranging from $47.40 a month for a private with two years to $174.30 for a four-star general with 26 years.

The Pentagon said, however, it will continue to give pay raises for promotions, hostile-fire pay, re-enlistment bonuses and special allowances.

It earlier had indicated it will freeze cost-of-living raises scheduled to take effect Jan. 1 for servicemen, in line with a similar delay for other federal employes, and hinted it might defer until mid-November a general $2.4 billion military pay raise if Congress enacts it with the present effective date of Oct. 1.

Organized labor, already nettled by frozen wages and Nixon's call to end current strikes and forego new stoppages got another jolt when the Cost of Living Council ruled out retroactive pay raises during the 90-day period.

The council said collective bargaining may continue during the freeze, but that no wage hike negotiated during the period may go into effect before Nov. 12 at the earliest.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, after a meeting with top administration economic advisers, said all labor unions whose members are denied raises during the 90-day period should immediately cancel contracts, renegotiate to demand higher pay and strike if necessary. He said labor has lost faith in Nixon's ability to deal with the economy.

The United Auto Workers also has been sharply critical of the freeze which the union contends favors business over workers, but the Teamsters Union expressed support for Nixon's policies while decrying what it called gross inequities.

Although the executive order does not freeze interest rates or profits, Treasury Secretary Connally sent personal letters to leading money institutions urging them to offer low interest rates voluntarily.

He said in the letter he expects lenders to "look beyond short-run profits when they set rates and consider the broad public-interest implications of what they do."

On Capitol Hill, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee said he will consider more relief for individuals when his panel takes up Nixon's economic package.

The Arkansas Democrat said his present thinking is to expand special provisions, now allowing a minimum standard deduction of $1,000 for 1972, to "put money in the hands of people who would spend it promptly."

Walter Heller, chief economic adviser to two Democratic presidents, told a congressional hearing the Nixon program is lopsided in giving industry a $9-billion tax break and individual taxpayers some $2 billion.

"That's raw meat for big business while the consumer gets little more than a soup bone," he told the Joint Congressional Economic Committee.

Heller had praise, however, for Nixon's objectives in freeing the dollar from gold prices to seek its own level on world money markets.

Security Unit Completed at Prison

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — The state prison's new maximum security unit, representing one of the reforms of the Arkansas penal system, has been completed and occupied by inmates.

The one-story structure, built with $500,000 in state funds and $50,000 in federal money, was finished with the exception of some furnishings about 30 days ago, about a month ahead of schedule.

Its importance to improving the prison system was emphasized by the February 1970 decision by U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley of Little Rock ordering reforms in the penitentiary. Henley made the date for completion of the unit the deadline for carrying out reforms he ordered.

John Haley of Little Rock, chairman of the state Board of Correction, said the main advantage of the unit was that it permits prison authorities to separate Cummins' toughest inmates from the regular convict population, housed in the barracks-type main compound.

The new unit will house 85 inmates in one-to-four-man cells but it will not relieve an overcrowding problem at the penitentiary, Haley said.

"We've had an increase of about 300 in the inmate population over the last year and this far outstrips the number of men we were able to pull out and put in the maximum security unit," he said.

He said overcrowding would not be relieved until a $650,000 minimum security unit is completed. Plans for the building are to be presented to the board next Thursday. If approved, construction should begin about late next month, with completion scheduled early next year, Haley said.

Located 200 to 300 feet east of the main barracks at Cummins, the maximum security unit has three wings. One is a "long-term" wing to house death row inmates, formerly imprisoned at Tucker Intermediate Reformatory, and some inmates serving life sentences.

Another wing contains one-man cells for inmates kept in protective custody. The third wing has cells for "punitive segregation," which is isolation.

"The old isolation cells were separated one from another simply by bars, so the men could talk to each other and exchange food — it was more like on a big happy family than isolation," Haley said. "While the new quarters are lighted, airy and comfortable, the men find complete isolation far more of a penalty than they did in the old isolation cells."

Everyone in the unit except inmates in isolation work at a prison job, but all are locked in their cells at night, Haley said.

Mills Wants More Relief From Taxes

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways And Means Committee will consider additional tax relief for individuals when it takes up President Nixon's economic package, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., says.

"I don't think enough is done in this direction" in the Nixon proposals, Mills said in a telephone interview.

He said his own preference would be to expand provisions of present law for a special deduction allowed low-income taxpayers. Under present law, this minimum standard deduction would be $1,000 for 1972.

Increasing it, Mills said, "would put money in the hands of people who would spend it promptly."

Apart from repeal of the 7-per-cent automobile excise tax, which would benefit only buyers of new cars, the only individual tax relief proposal by Nixon was a one-year speedup in increasing the personal exemption by $50.

Critics in and out of Congress are saying this measure of individual relief is dwarfed by the benefits proposed for business—the excise repeal, 10-per-cent tax writeoff for equipment purchases, a 10-per-cent surcharge on imports, making them less competitive—all in addition to liberalized depreciation rules put into effect earlier this year.

Walter Heller, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, estimated Thursday that business would get some $9 billion in tax breaks from the existing and proposed measures, against $2.5 billion for individuals.

Mills, however, rejected a suggestion by Heller and others that individuals be given an additional tax break by postponing a Social Security tax increase that is coupled with increased benefits in a House-passed bill pending in the Senate.

Nixon Points to Future of Economy

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon concedes his far-reaching new economic program poses "some problems," but expresses confidence most Americans favor his approach—"and that's what counts."

Nixon made the remarks to newsmen at the Western White House after arriving Thursday night for a two-week stay that follows a cross-country presidential speech-making trip on behalf of his temporary wage-price freeze and other moves.

Faced with rebellion against the freeze by such prominent persons as AFL-CIO President George Meany and Democratic Gov. Preston Smith of Texas, Nixon said some dissension is inevitable but, in his view, his program has "been going very well."

"We have some problems," he said, "but the public reaction is what is important. I think an overwhelming majority of the people throughout the country favor what we're doing, and that's what counts."

Looking a bit weary after a three-day journey that took him to New York, Illinois, Idaho, Wyoming and Texas, Nixon was ready to press ahead with official business today.

The President scheduled a morning conference with California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a fellow Republican, which was expected to focus on the national administration's welfare reform efforts.

Then Nixon and Reagan were going by helicopter to Loma Linda, near San Bernardino, to formally announce plans for construction of a 630-bed Veterans Administration hospital that will be associated with the medical center of Loma Linda University.

The facility will replace a VA hospital in the San Fernando Valley near Los Angeles that was destroyed by the Feb. 9 earthquake.

Nixon, addressing the Dallas convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Thursday—and appearing in a half-empty auditorium that normally seats 10,000—asked for support of his economic policies.

He also said his curbs on federal outlays, aimed at countering inflation, will not encompass any needless restraints on military spending.

In a passage not included in his advance text as distributed to newsmen, Nixon associated himself with calls by Democratic Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington for maintenance of a strong defense effort.

Jackson, a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, has been most vocal on the defense issue.

While Nixon spoke in Dallas, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler issued a statement denouncing an order by the Texas governor granting scheduled pay raises for teachers and government workers despite the wage-price-rent freeze. Said Ziegler on behalf, he said, of the entire administration:

"It appears that the governor of Texas, for motivations of which only he is aware, is seeking to single out a group of Texans for preferential treatment. We don't think any Texan wants that, particularly at a time when all the nation is banding together to defeat inflation and at a time when many Americans are being requested to make temporary sacrifices for the good of all."

Nixon later was asked if he expected any legal problem as a result of Gov. Smith's announcement.

Hope Native Honored

(Editor's Note: Because reproduction in Thursday's issue was so terrible the following article is being reprinted. The article about Mrs. Beryl Anthony Jr. was carried in the El Dorado Daily News on August 1. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Foster of Hope.)

MRS. ANTHONY

Mrs. Anthony is a member of the Fine Arts Auxiliary and the Robert Rosamond Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She has been a worker for the South Arkansas Symphony and for the Junior Charity League.

The Outstanding Young Women of America program, now in its seventh year, was conceived by the leaders of the nation's major women's organizations. The program recognizes young women between the ages of 21 and 35 for their contributions to the betterment of their communities, professions, and country.

Each year over 6,000 young women are nominated as Outstanding Young Women of America by leading women's organizations, college alumni associations and churches across the country. These women are now in competition for their states' Outstanding Young Women of the Year Award. This fall, fifty of the young women, one from each state, will be named as their states' Outstanding Young Woman of the Year.

Teachers in Texas Back Govenor

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' largest teacher organization endorsed Thursday Gov. Preston Smith's plan to give them pay raises in defiance of a wage-price freeze proposed by President Nixon.

The endorsement was signed by Archie Roberts, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, and L. P. Sturgeon, the group's executive secretary.

The announcement said in part: "The TSTA has been working continually since the President's television address August 15th to obtain relief for Texas teachers. We are extremely pleased with Gov. Smith's action and we think Texas teachers should tell him that they, too, are pleased.

"We shall continue to work with all officials to support teachers as this story unfolds. If necessary, the TSTA will pursue every source of relief."

The group said it had notified by telegram Smith, Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, U. S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., U. S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., Nixon and Treasury Sec. John Connally.

"We are lobbying strongly to obtain equity relief for teachers through contacts with state and national officials," the announcement stated.

Tokyo Stock Market Has Rebounded

By MARK KURAMITSU
Associated Press Writer

TOKYO (AP) — The Tokyo Stock Market rebounded today after four straight days of decline due to President Nixon's dollar-defense program.

Trading was active, but volume was down from previous sessions when prices dropped sharply.

The 225-share index closed at 2,283.88, up 93.72. The index fell 550.92 points the past four days.

Export-related shares—hardest hit this week—were up in morning trading. Among gainers were electric appliance, automobile, construction and real estate issues.

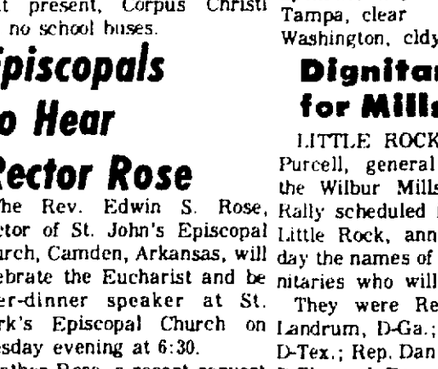

The market suffered a record fall Monday following news of President Nixon's severance of the dollar-gold conversion and imposition of a 10 per cent surtax on imports, two moves aimed chiefly at Japan.

Meanwhile, brisk trading of dollars continued on Tokyo's foreign exchange market. After four days of massive buying to maintain the dollar at 360 yen, the Bank of Japan sold an estimated $40 million, but by noon the bank had bought back about $100 million.

Market sources said the commercial banks apparently turned to buying at the opening because of the government's ban on borrowing of dollars from foreign banks.

Despite government denials, speculation persisted that the yen will have to be revalued. Keidanren, the federation of economic organizations, plans to discuss revaluation at its regular meeting next week.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

HUSBANDS SAYS "MUSTN'T TOUCH"

Dear Helen:

My husband was raised in a family whose members never got close. So he doesn't show affection and feels sort of threatened by it. I'm used to this—I know he loves me, even though hugs and kisses aren't his thing.

But my family is demonstrative. We're huggers. It's natural for me to kiss people when I see them, and that means men as well as women. My husband thinks it's outrageous when I greet an old friend (male) with a warm (platonic) embrace. For heavens sake, that doesn't mean I want an affair with him!

He says he isn't afraid of old beaux or of losing me, and if you think he's wrong, he'll try to change. Thanks for being a referee. —MRS. E.

Dear Mrs. E.:

My vote goes to YOU. Fear of personal contact puts a wall around people, closes out warmth, makes them avoid other forms of communication. A friendly hug says "I'd glad you're near and I'm not afraid to say so."

Come on, Mr. E., un-repress yourself! —H.

Dear Helen:

"Unhooked Now" presented a very ugly picture of diet pills. But actually she gave a picture of herself. She took those pills to get high, and she overdosed because she had a problem to begin with. I'm sure her doctor never meant for her to "graduate to a handful a day." Any medicine, when used wrongly, can be extremely dangerous.

I'm getting tired of this trend of labeling anyone who takes any kind of medication as a hophead. I take diet pills, one a day, and have for two months now, and I'm losing weight with no bad effects. —A LOSER BUT NOT HOOKED

Dear Helen:

"Unhooked Now" misused diet pills, and that's murder, but even taken as directed, one a day, they alter your personality. You become more nervous and impatient, more talkative, and your judgment gets faulty. When I took "pep pills" I discovered I made three times as many mistakes in typing—and I wasn't even aware of them until I read my copy back. I'd chatter on and regret what I said later. And very soon they weren't holding down my appetite any more. There came a choice: either increase the dosage, or quit. I quit! —SECRETARY

Dear Helen:

"Unhooked Now" is lucky to have come through with her life. My 20-year-old daughter started on diet pills provided by one of those "clinics." That was in 1966. She died less than a year later, after reducing from a size 22½ to a size 12. She had all the signs: nervousness, compulsive talking, the highs and lows. But we thought because a "doctor" was in charge, there was no danger. Later, we read about those reducing factories and the pill regimen that can dangerously reduce potassium and other body chemicals. It was too late. —A VERY LONELY MOTHER

Dear Helen:

You're not in favor of big weddings, but here's by side: My wife was married the first time by a J.P. Some people frowned when she and I decided for a big church wedding (a divorcee yet!) but we wouldn't have it any other way. Maybe the money could have been used for bills or furniture, but the memories of that great day will last forever.

Not all men are against fancy weddings, Helen. —WAYNE

Dear Wayne:

True, but you're the first one I've heard admit it. —H.

A Minimum Four-Bedroom House

This house plan is a compacted four-bedroom house with two baths, kitchen and living room all incorporated within a living area of 1380 square foot.

Each of the bedrooms is of a moderate size and includes adequate clothes closets. The two bathrooms are spacious for a compact house and are arranged in such a manner as to be convenient for all members of the family.

The kitchen arrangement is L-shaped and includes generous work surfaces and storage areas. It is conveniently arranged to make the most use of space and is sufficiently large to accommodate the dining table within the kitchen area.

The washer and dryer closets are located adjacent to the back door off the carport.

The living room is large and is provided with a generous amount of glass. This living room is so arranged that it can be closed off from the balance of the house if so desired.

The plan also incorporates a carport, a moderately sized storage room, and provides a covered porch area between the carport and front entrance.

The plan was developed to meet the needs of a growing family and was designed in such a manner to keep costs at a minimum. It makes use of both wood and brick and blends these materials pleasantly. The floor is wood frame to minimize cost and yet provide the best possible solutions for insulating to provide for maximum comfort.

If you have need for a house plan of this nature, you may obtain complete working drawings by requesting Plan No. 677602 from the Hempstead County Agricultural Extension Office. Copies of this plan are free of charge and may be used for estimating cost or for construction details.

Homer Wins Only Game in Majors

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pittsburgh's Richie Hebner, who couldn't fight out of a slump last week after a stint with the Marines, finally found he still has some ammunition left—the home run ball.

The Pirates third baseman went 0-16 in one stretch last week and struck out eight consecutive times in the span.But Thursday night he rifled a three-run homer in the ninth inning to help Pittsburgh bombard Cincinnati 5-1.

"I hadn't been hitting at all since I got out of the service a week ago Sunday," Hebner said in an understatement. "I got absolutely no practice in while I was at Camp Pendleton (Calif.), but now I feel like I'm getting my stroke back. I just didn't seem to be able to make any connection at all."

Hebner's eight straight strikeouts tied a Major League record and he jokingly said Thursday night that "I might as well have struck out the ninth time so I could have broken the record."

The homer, his 17th, came off Cincinnati reliever Wayne Granger who hadn't yielded a run in his previous 14 1-3 innings, and the round tripper helped snap the Reds winning streak at four games.

The homer was only the fifth hit of the contest for the Pirates who had been shackled on two hits through eight innings by starter Jim McGlothlin who was lifted for a pinchhitter. McGlothlin, who was charged with the loss, had given up only one run—a homer by Al Oliver in the seventh inning.

Meanwhile, Bob Johnson was coasting along and until the eighth inning, the Reds were able to put only one man beyond first base. Johnson, 8-8, hurling his seventh complete game of the season, scattered nine hits and allowed just a ninth-inning homer to Lee May.

Johnson, who registered an 8-13 mark and a 3.07 earned run average with Kansas City in the American League last season, said, "It was tough last year with Kansas City because they didn't score many runs. It's a little different with this club."

"But I thought I pitched better tonight than I have most of the year. I managed to throw to spots better. Basically I'm a control pitcher."

The triumph was Johnson's second of the year without a loss to the Reds and it hiked Pittsburgh's series record this season to 7-2 against Cincinnati.

Oddly enough, the game marks the first time since July 29 that the National League Eastern Division leading Pirates have won two games in a row.

It was the only contest played in the Major League Thursday night.

Carter Lost for Season

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —Randy Carter, a 6-foot-3, 220-pound defensive tackle, will be lost to the Arkansas Razorbacks this season.

Carter, a sophomore from Dallas, failed to meet physical requirements after undergoing knee surgery for an injury suffered last year. Carter plans to remain at Arkansas and return to football for the 1972 season.

A Daring Maneuver Wins Title

HOUSTON (AP) — Mike Brown owes his first National AAU diving championship to a daring maneuver he learned this summer in a calculated scheme to unseat one-meter king Jim Henry, a man he had never shipped before.

The 22-year-old Brown, a native of Denver, Colo., and a graduate student at the University of Indiana, pulled off a daring final dive Thursday that brought him smiling to the surface.

The dive was a difficult reverse one and one-half somersault layout.

"I had never done it before in the AAU," Brown said. "I decided to try it because it had a high degree of difficulty (2.8) compared to the reverse one and one-half tuck (2.3) I decided to ditch."

Henry, a graduate student at Indiana and a native of Dallas, Tex., flopped to a disappointing fourth after he bombed out in his next to last dive—a reverse one and one-half somersault pike. He had won three consecutive outdoor one-meter titles.

Brown was third behind Henry going into the final three dives.

"I knew I had a chance and I did better than I've ever done before," said Brown, whose previous highest AAU finish was fourth in 1966 at Long Beach, Calif.

He piled up 548.49 points to 535.20 for second-place Michael Finneran of Santa Clara, Calif., Thursday.

Don Dunfield of Santa Clara was third with 532.47 and Henry had a 521.37.

Brown said his fast development can be traced to Indiana Coach Hobie Billingsley, who also is the mentor of Henry and women's one-meter titlist Cynthia Potter.

"We've worked hard and now it's paying off," Brown said. "I'm hoping now to win a spot on the Olympic team."

The spotlight at the diving championships switched today to the men's three-meter preliminaries and semifinals and the women's 10-meter preliminaries.

Travs Split Two Extra Inning Games

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers and the Birmingham Athletics split a Dixie Association doubleheader here Thursday night with both games being decided in extra innings.

Birmingham took the opener 2-1 in nine innings of the regularly scheduled seven - inning game before the largest crowd of the year at Ray Winder Field —7,461.

The Travelers bounced back with a 1-0 victory in the nightcap by pushing across a run in the bottom of the 12th.

The split left the Travelers with a 10-game bulge over second-place Shreveport in the Central Division.

Birmingham pushed across single runs in the sixth and ninth innings to overcome a one-run lead the Travelers managed in the first inning of the opener.

The second game was a pitching duel most of the way between the A's Chris Floethe and the Travelers' Jackie Stripling. Floethe fanned 15 Travelers in the first eight innings.

In the deciding 12th inning, Arkansas catcher Skip Jutze reached on an error, then Bill Brooks slammed a drive over the center fielder's head, sending Jutze to third. Birmingham reliefer Bill Geiger then made a wildpitch to allow Jutze to cross the plate with the winning run.

The two clubs meet again tonight in a single game at 7:30.

Stylish Major Could Be a Surprise

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Stylish Major, a 10-year-old New Zealand-bred, could be the surprise winner of the $125,000 Roosevelt International Trot Saturday night.

"We're as good as anyone in the race," said Norman Dauplaise the 31-year-old Canadian-born driver who will rein the 12-1 long shot in the global classic of harness racing at Roosevelt Raceway.

Fresh Yankee, an 8-year-old mare is the defending champion from Canada, is the 3-1 early favorite in the 1¼ mile test, but this doesn't faze Dauplaise.

"I've got the fastest finisher and if I'm anywhere close on the last turn I'll be dangerous in the stretch," explained the native of Drummondville, Que.

Dauplaise, driving in the international for the first time, pointed out that Stylish Major made up some five lengths in the stretch to be third to Fresh Yankee and Tidalium Pelo of France in the 1970 International at odds of 26-1.

TCU Plenty Proud of Tight End

By PAT TRULY

FORT WORTH (AP) — Not all football players enjoy spring training; it is a lot of work, after all. But Ronnie Peoples had a ball last April at TCU.

"It felt good," he says. "That was the first time I'd been able to go through spring training since I was a sophomore in high school."

That would have been the spring of 1966. The next year, when Peoples was a junior at Odessa High, he had a shoulder operation. As a senior he didn't have to work in the spring. As a TCU freshman (he roomed with Steve Judy, the Frogs' record-setting quarterback) Peoples sat out the spring with a knee operation, and further knee trouble sidelined him until last fall, when, as a redshirt sophomore, he started a couple of games.

This spring, he was a sensation.

"I've got a lot of respect for that old boy," says coach Jim Pittman. "He'll catch the ball and he'll hit you. He likes to hit."

Another TCU player says of Peoples, "If he has a choice of dodging one man or running over 12, he'll run over 12."

And that explains how Peoples, 6-3 and 220 pounds of frustrated football player, became TCU's No. 1 tight end and a co-captain. He's admired by coaches and players alike.

"He's had so many heartbreaks," says Judy. "Ronnie's been waiting for this year so long."

The Frogs, and their fans, have been waiting a long time for a resurgence, for a winner. They think maybe they've found the answer in Pittman, who begins his first season at the TCU rudder cafter pulling Tulane from the doldrums to a bowl game.

Pittman figures the first assignment for himself and his staff is to get the maximum from the talent on hand.

Some of it is top talent—Judy, Peoples, defensive tackle Ken Steel—but one of Pittman's major worries is that there isn't enough of it.

The pleasant surprises of the spring (Peoples, sophomore quarterback Kent Marshall, linemen Craig Fife, Sidney Bond and Charlie Davis, linebackers Gary Whitman and Dale Ladner and halfback Steve Patterson) were not numerous enough to allay concern about depth.

The Frogs go into the fall with a tough defense and an uncertain offense. Pittman certifies the defense as enthusiastic and full of second effort, adding that the ends, tackles and secondary positions are reasonably solid.

His major problems are depth and linebacker, where Tookie Berry is a gem and others have farther to go yet.

Judy, of course, is the offensive spark. Assistant coach Russell Coffee compares him to Duke Carlisle, former Texas star, but adds that Judy is a better passer. It is his running ability which will make the Frogs go if they stick with the wishbone offense they used in the spring.

Other capable runners are available in fullback Bobby Davis, halfbacks Larry Harris and Billy Sadler, and Marshall, but the ground game remains questionable.

The offensive line is also a question mark. "From tackle to tackle," says Pittman, "we have to improve."

He promised no miracles. Just a lot of hard work. For guys like Ronnie Peoples, that's fine. They've been waiting.

Cowboys Entertain Browns

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — When the starting offense of the Cleveland Browns is announced to Dallas Cowboy fans in the Cotton Bowl tonight, there is apt to be a few cheers—or sighs, anyway—when Mike Phipps is announced as starting quarterback.

That will mean the Browns' veteran signal caller, weak-kneed Bill Nelsen, is not at the helm.

Nelsen, should any Cowboy fan have forgotten, guided the Browns past the Cowboys 31-20 in the 1968 NFL Eastern title game and humiliated them the following year, 42-10, in the game for the same marbles.

Nelsen may see some action, his first of the season.

But before Cowboy enthusiasts get too excited, they had perhaps take a second look at Phipps.

The second-year veteran from Purdue took the Browns on three touchdown drives, all over 70 yards, in the San Francisco game which they lost 38-24.

The Cowboys will be hoping to keep their winning streak going after easily beating Los Angeles and New Orleans.

The road-weary Browns—this is their third pre-seasoner away from home—have also lost to the Rams.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry says he will go with quarterback Craig Morton, since Roger Staubach has a few bruised ribs.

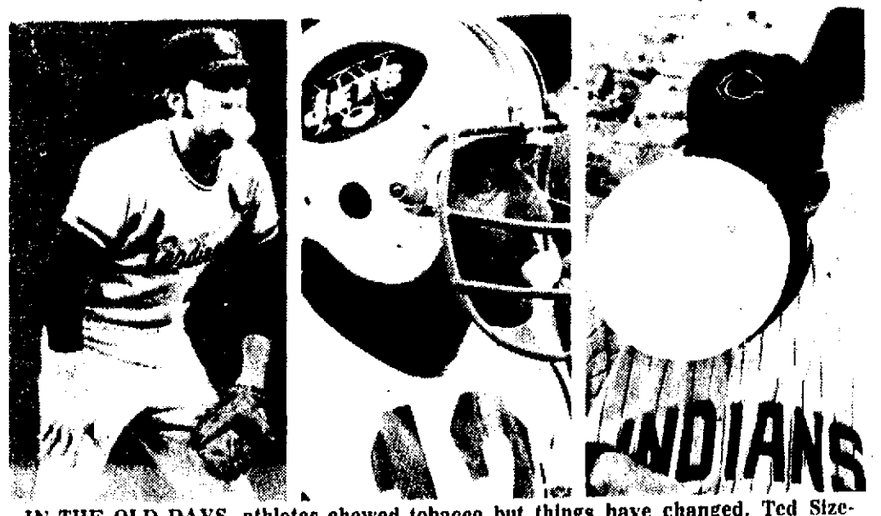

Dallas will be without tight end Mike Ditka and linebacker Lee Ray Jordan, while the Browns will be missing offensive tackle Dick Schafrath and defensive end Jack Gregory.

Quite a few veterans switched teams via the waiver route Thursday, including Jerry Rhome, Jack Clancy and Eugene Moore.

Rhome, who spent five years with Dallas and one with Houston, was picked up by the Los Angeles Rams on waivers from the Oilers. Rhome will battle Karl Sweetan and John Walton for the job as Roman Gabriel's back-up man.

Clancy, a former starter with the Miami Dolphins and Green Bay Packers, moved from Green Bay to Atlanta on Waivers. Clancy caught 67 passes in 1967 with Miami, an AFL record for rookies.

Moore, a running back in his third season, was picked up by New Orleans from Baltimore.

IN THE OLD DAYS, athletes chewed tobacco but things have changed. Ted Sizemore of the St. Louis Cardinals, left, recently sidelined quarterback Joe Namath of the New York Jets, center, and pitcher Steve Dunning of the Cleveland Indians have all turned to bubble gum.

Key Porker Injures Shoulder

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said tight end Bobby Nichols of Tulsa, Okla., sprained his right shoulder during drills Thursday and may be lost until the first week in October.

Nichols was injured when he fell while trying to catch a pass from quarterback Joe Ferguson.

Broyles said the passing of Ferguson was the highlight of the first full day of practice Thursday. Ferguson consistently hit on long throws and had a lot of zip in his short passes, Broyles said.

Defensive line Coach Mervin Johnson said he was pleased with the team's overall condition, but more would be known when the Hogs begin practice in pads Monday.

Bold Reason Goes After 6th in Row

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bold Reason goes after his sixth consecutive victory in the 102nd running of the historic Travers Stakes at Saratoga Saturday in the highlight of the weekend thoroughbred racing program.

Many consider the William Levin-owned colt as the leading 3-year-old in the country from his streak of five in a row, including the Hollywood Derby, the Lexington and the American Derby.

Unbeaten since finishing third to Pass Catcher and Jim French in the Belmont Stakes, Bold Reason would take a giant step towards the division championship in the year end poll with a success in the $100,000-added Travers.

There are two other 100-granders listed for Saturday, the $100,000 Hobson Handicap at Liberty Bell and the $100,000 Benjamin F. Lindheimer Handicap at Arlington Park.

Elsewhere there the $25,000 Ventor Handicap at Atlantic City, the $25,000 Cabrillo Handicap at Del Mar and the $25,000 Endine Handicap at Delaware Park, which reopens Saturday.

On Sunday the $25,000 Parlo Handicap is listed at Delaware and the $10,000 Princess Doreen Handicap at Rockingham Park.

Bold Reason likely will face eight rivals in the 1¼ mile Travers, including Pass Catcher, who hasn't won since the Belmont. Other likely starters include Eastern Fleet, Epic Journey, Kennedy Road, Twist The Axe, Farewell Party and West Coast Scout, surprise winner of the Monmouth Invitational in his last outing.

Never Bow is the top weight at 124 pounds for the inaugural Hobson Handicap at 1¼ miles. The main contenders in a probable field of eight loom as Jontilla and Well Mannered.

Mr. Pow Wow, Princess Pout and Royal Harmony are rated the main contenders in the Lindheimer at 1 1-16 miles on grass. Cold Comfort, I'm For Mama and Royal Signal are the chief threats in the six-furlong Endine for fillies and mares.

Miss Germain Is Defeated

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dorothy Germain of Blytheville, Ark., was defeated Thursday in the second round of the 71st annual Women's Amateur Golf Championships at Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Germain was defeated 3 and 1 by Beth Barry of Daughin Island, Ala.

Two Arkansans Are Under Par

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Two Arkansas golfers, Richard Crawford of Little Rock and R. H. Sikes of Springdale, each had a one-under-par 71 Thursday in the first-round of the $150,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

Mike Hill held the first-round lead with a 65.

Mike Hill Leader at Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mike Hill's biggest problem on the golf tour is to get people to stop calling him Dave.

It's not easy. Mike looks a lot like Dave, and if you close your eyes you'd swear it was Dave talking.

The easiest way to tell the two apart, however, is on the golf course, where younger brother Mike is as different from Dave as a hole-in-one is from a double bogey.

You could see the difference Thursday after Mike fired a seven under par 35-30—65 to take the first round lead in the $150,000 Industrial Valley Bank Philadelphia Golf Classic.

He leads by a stroke over Jack Nicklaus, who shot 32-24 on the Country Club course. Bracketed at 67 as the field of 147 started and the second round Friday were Bob Rosburg, Bob Murphy and Tom Weiskopf.

The handsome, dark-haired Hill, from Jackson, Mich., isn't as intense as brother Dave who is suing the PGA for a million dollars over a fine leveled against him. Mike is the first to admit he's not as outspoken as Dave.

"No sir, I don't even attempt it," he snapped, when asked if he spoke his piece in the Dave Hill tradition.

Dave is a bug on the technical angle of the game. Mike has a natural swing and is concerned mostly about keeping it in the groove. He also believes that a large percentage of successful golf game is mental.

Mike was having his problems two months ago, so he decided to take a rest. He sat out the Canadian and Milwaukee Opens before rejoining the tour for the Western Open. He came back in a better frame of mind and hasn't finished worse than sixth since then, earning in excess of $18,000. He moved from 95th to 55th on the money winning list, and has now earned $28,242.

He had 30 putts for his Thursday round with seven one-putt greens and only one three-putt bogey hole. He missed only one green and saved par there with a pitch from the fringe to within about six inches of the cup.

He's seeking his first victory on the tour since the 1969 Doral Open.

Nicklaus, who made a special point to play in the Philadelphia Classic because he withdrew last year after one round, was pleased with his six under par round. He also had an eagle on the fifth, hitting a three iron 11 feet from the pin and holing it. He had six birdies and a pair of three-putt bogeys.

NFL Probes Deal by Robinson

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The National Football League and the Kansas City Crime Commission were reported at odds Thursday night over a business transaction involving all-pro safety Johnny Robinson.

The transaction involves the purchase of the Mirror Lake Town Club, now Johnny Robinson's Swim and Tennis Club.

This was done with a $75,000 down payment and a promisory note signed by Robinson for $275,000, payable to Edward P. "Eddie Spitz" Osadchey and his wife.

The NFL told The Associated Press Thursday it had already investigated the matter, regarded the transaction as a "simple purchase of property," and criticized the crime commission for having raised the issue.

In New York, the N.J.L. office said:

"This office has been fully aware of the details of Johnny Robinson's property purchase since last Dec. 3. At that time he voluntarily requested our assistance in obtaining information relevant to the then proposed transaction. At no time have we determined that the transaction is anything more than a simple purchase of property and our investigation established no sufficient cause for taking the drastic action of directing Robinson to divest himself of the property. It is unfortunate that a volunteer organization should see fit to issue self-serving statements which tend to confuse rather than to clarify the situation."

The crime commission had written the NFL earlier this week about the transaction, saying "it was not in the best interests of professional football or the Kansas City Chiefs."

Osadchey's police record shows a conviction in 1964 of conspiring with four others to defraud the government of taxes on alcohol while operating the Mirror Lake Golf and Country Club.

Contacted following the team's night practice at William Jewell College in Liberty, Mo., Robinson said: "On the advice of Coach Stram, I have no comment to make."

Robinson, at first declined to comment "on the advice of Coach Stram," But later he said his purchase of the Mirror Lake Town Club was completed only after he received approval of the league office to go ahead with the transaction.

New Coach to Try to Lift Patriots

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — John Mazur is neither a masochist nor a starry eyed kid. He's a seasoned pro, taking on possibly the toughest job in the National Football League—rebuilding the New England Patriots.

Hired as a chief assistant in 1969, Mazur inherited the head coaching job of the Patriots when Clive Rush was "relieved" of his duties midway through last season.

Mazur did his best, but damage, both in the morale and injury departments, had been done. The Patriots finished with a 2-12 record, the worst in the NFL.

Mazur was given a new one-year contract, causing cynics to wonder. Is he a sacrificial lamb? An interim head coach while a bigger name is sought? Or is he trying to qualify as a kamakaze pilot?

A one-time Notre Dame quarterback and former assistant coach at Marquette, Tulane and Boston Universities before serving as offensive coordinator for the Buffalo Bills from 1962 through '69, Mazur is ignoring the cynics, concentrating on the big job ahead.

With the help of new general manager Upton Bell, 33-year-old former player personnel director of the Baltimore Colts, Mazur is remolding the Patriots, starting with a tough training camp designed to weed out players who do not give 100 per cent effort.

Mazur's campaign already is paying off, with a 20-14 victory over the New York Giants and a 17-10 loss to the Minnesota Vikings in exhibition games.

Despite last year's record, only one rookie, 14th draft pick Alfred Sykes of Florida A&M has managed to crack the starting lineup so far. Sykes, a skinny wide receiver, has been the biggest surprise in training camp.

Most veterans, healthy once again, are battling to hold starting jobs.

Bell, son of the late NFL commissioner, Bert Bell, is trying to do as much as possible "right now to make John's job easier and, maybe, win a few games right away."

In that department, the Patriots have acquired in deals such players as Mike Haggerty of the Pittsburgh Steelers, Willis Crenshaw of the Denver Broncos, Steve Kiner of Dallas, and Rich Moore of the Green Bay Packers.

The Patriots' enthusiasm also has been boosted by the arrival of quarterback Jim Plunkett and a new 62,000-seat stadium in Foxboro, about 20 miles south of Boston. Until now, the Patriots have been vagabonds. Bouncing from one inadequate stadium to another.

The walkout of veteran quarterback Joe Kapp hurt, but Mazur shrugs it off in typical fashion. He just went about his business at hand, promoting Mike Taliaferro to the No. 1 job. Taliaferro was displaced when Kapp was signed last October.

Plunkett, the Heisman Trophy winner from Stanford, was late in arriving because of the College All-Star Game. Backing up Taliaferro, he has been used, sparingly in exhibition games, but he is expected to get more work gradually as the season progresses.

Female cats have commonly been called "tabbies" but the term "tabby" properly means that the cat's body has stripes and colored patches.

German Driver Happy With First Joust

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — German Grand Prix driver Rolf Stommelen doesn't want to be accused of "pinning anyone's ears back," but he is happy with his first joust with the South's top stock car pilots.

The 27-year-old from Cologne had never sat inside one of the 600 horsepower stockers until Thursday. But he had accepted an invitation to drive in Sunday's $120,000 Talladega 500, extended by Bill France, president of NASCAR and owner of the 2.66-mile Alabama International Motor Speedway, fastest closed course on earth.

Stommelen, a regular driver for Alfa Romeo in endurance racing and a newcomer to the Formula One Grand Prix circuit this year, got only three laps of practice and some hurried advice from stock car veterans Tiny Lund before making his qualifying attempt.

Would you believe 183.286 miles an hour for a fast lap? It put the tall, blond German into the third row beside Richard Petty, the all-time NASCAR great and a $1 million winner, for Sunday's start.

"I've never seen a foreign driver come down here and do that well," Petty said with admiration. "With no more practice than that, and showing that much ability his first time out, he'd be a winner before too long."

The Allison brothers, Donnie and Bobby, came over from their nearby Hueytown, Ala., garage and won the two front-row positions in Mercurys.

Donnie, winner of the spring 500-miler here, won the pole position at 187.323 m.p.h. Bobby, who finished second to his brother in the Winston 500 here in May by the margin of a car hood, posted 186.444.

Then followed Charlie Glotzbach in a Chevrolet, Pete Hamilton in a Plymouth, Petty's Plymouth and Stommelen's Mercury.

Twenty drivers made the lineup in the first session. Twenty more positions were open today. Only the 50 fastest cars will be allowed to start.

All Indians Expected Show Up

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University Coach Bill Davidson said everyone who was expected showed up Thursday night for the Indians' first-night steak dinner.

Davidson said more than 100 players, including 33 freshmen, had arrived for the beginning of the 1971 football campaign.

"Most everyone looked to be in pretty good physical condition and there was a lot of enthusiasm," Davidson said. "We were pleased that every freshman we recruited was on hand for our first meeting."

The Agony Of Addiction

Kneeling on the bathroom floor for a needed fix . . . morning after depression . . . the down-and-out addict on a city street . . . part of the personal hells and national tragedy that is the drug scene, depicted in these photos from a recent exhibition at the Museum of the City of New York dealing with problems of addiction in the United States.

MODERN SOVIET ART is going some place, it would seem, if this is any example. Wood and metal sculpture capturing wanderlust spirit of young travelers the world over starred at a Moscow exhibition, "Physical Culture and Sport in the Fine Arts."

Jeremy Flint points out that the winning bridge player knows when to ignore partner's signal.

Here is a hand from a rubber bridge game. East was an average player who liked to bid. West was an expert who knew this partner.

Therefore, West did not consider pushing with a five-diamond bid against South's vulnerable game. He opened the king of diamonds and noted his partner's play of the deuce. Obviously his partner wanted him to shift. Could the diamond deuce be a suit-preference signal with a club void? Not likely at all. That would mean that East held at least five hearts and, with 11 red cards. East was the sort to fly the flag to the five level.

What could East hold in hearts? Probably the ace and nothing else in the trick-taking line. Now West saw a sure-fire set if East did hold that heart ace.

West continued diamonds. South ruffed, entered dummy with a club, led a spade and finessed the jack.

West took his king and carefully led his highest heart, the nine. East won with the ace, thought awhile and finally led a diamond. Now West was sure to set the hand with his 10 of trumps.

Oliver K., Waukegan, Ill., writes: Will you please provide me with information on hotel management opportunities?"

Dear Oliver: Well qualified young people will find favorable opportunities all through the 1970s to obtain entry positions that offer the possibility of promotion to managerial work. Those with college degrees will have an advantage in seeking entry and later advancement.

You'll be interested to know that the number of hotel managers is expected to increase moderately for the 10 years ahead.

Although successful hotel experience is generally the first consideration in selection of managers, employers increasingly emphasize a college education. Many believe the best educational preparation is provided by the colleges which offer a specialized four-year curriculum in hotel and restaurant administration. Specialized courses in hotel work, available in a few junior colleges, and study courses given by the Educational Institute of the American Hotel and Motel Association, are also helpful.

James A.B., Jasper, Ala., writes: "I am interested in becoming a newspaper columnist and would like to have information in this regard."

Dear James: Newspaper reporting is a good place to start. Well qualified beginners with writing talent will find employment opportunities all through the 1970s. Weekly newspapers and small town dailies will continue to offer most opportunities for beginners, although large city dailies will provide some opportunities.

Mike K., Mooresburg, Ky., "What are the opportunities for meteorologists?"

Dear Mike: The outlook is favorable. It appears several hundred new meteorologists will be needed each year. Some will be needed with commercial airlines, others with weather reporting services, and various other private companies, and teaching, too, offers bright opportunities.

U.S. Labor Department Bulletins are sources of in-depth information on career fields. They can be obtained by writing the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. For Hotel Management, ask for Bulletin 1650-126, priced at 15 cents; for Newspaper Reporters, ask for Bulletin 1650-49, also priced at 15 cents; for Meteorologists, Bulletin 1650-24, priced the same; and for Secretaries, Bulletin 1650-54, 10 cents.

If you have a question about another career field, write to SO YOU WANT TO BE in care of Newspaper Enterprise Association, Suite 410, 230 Park Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Pancreatic Juices Help Digest Fats

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I would like to know if there is any food or drink that can be digested without the aid of the pancreatic juice. I have no pancreas in my body. I am slowly starving. Maybe there are some foods I can eat. I would appreciate it.

Dear Reader—If you really have no pancreas, you have no pancreatic juice and no insulin from the tiny islets in the pancreas that prevent diabetes.

Pancreatic juice contains enzymes that help to metabolize all types of food. Those that are essential to digesting fat are the most critical. A person with poor function of the pancreas will lose most of the fat he eats because it cannot be absorbed from the intestines. Consequently, the stools are large and greasy. In the absence of sufficient pancreatic juice, the body can still use carbohydrates (starches and sugars) and proteins (lean meats, lean fowl and lean fish).

The preferred method of managing the problems posed by lack of a pancreas or inadequate pancreatic function is replacement. There are commercial pancreatic extracts that can be used. These should be taken at frequent intervals during the day (six to 12 times a day) for the best effect. If there is no insulin production, this, too, must be supplied.

Without replacement medicine you may also have trouble absorbing Vitamins A, D and E. Additional medicine will need to be taken to prevent problems with the liver. I am not sure why you have no pancreas and that is a rather important consideration.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have always believed any cough is contagious. Is there a true cigarette cough? Are bronchial or asthmatic coughs contagious? Your answer will help me and many other mothers and teachers who care for young children.

Dear Reader—A person coughs because the respiratory tract is irritated—which can be by a chemical, an allergy or a mechanical irritation; a tumor or an infection, for example.

There surely is a cigarette cough and it is the result of chemical irritation. It isn't contagious, but the smoker's cigarette can surely cause the nonsmoker to cough and sometimes gasp for breath.

Coughing from any allergy is not contagious—and many cases of asthma are caused by allergy. Several diseases of the lungs cause cough without being contagious. Having a cough from a simple cold is one thing—and it shouldn't last too long. Anyone with a persistent cough should be examined. Such a cough can represent serious disease, and early diagnosis is usually in the patient's best interest.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The millions of wild horses that once roamed the Old West, commonly called mustangs, have been reduced to an estimated 17,000 in 10 states, according to The World Almanac. The original mustang was descended from animals brought to America by Spanish conquistadors but today's horses retain hardly a trace of the original strain.

Economist Says Controls Necessary

By WILLIAM MORRISSEY
Associated Press Writer

TOWNSHEND, Vt. (AP) — Harvard economist John Kenneth Galbraith says a continuing restraint on wages and prices is an absolute necessity for a long-term success in the country's fight for a stable economy.

"As long as one has strong unions and strong corporations, one is going to have competition between the unions and corporations that can shove up the prices. So, there is going to be a continuing need for some kind of wage-price restraint," he said.

"Those who think otherwise are fooling themselves," Galbraith said in an interview Tuesday with The Associated Press.

Ambassador to India during the Kennedy administration and head of the Wage-Price Control Board during the early years of World War II, Galbraith made the comments at his summer farm in Southern Vermont.

He said President Nixon's decision announced Sunday to freeze prices and wages for 90 days was not a major reversal of the country's economic policies as a whole. He characterized it as "a major reversal as far as the Nixon administration is concerned," viewed in the light of its public statements over the past 2½ years.

He said the United States has been edging toward some form of wage-price controls for 15 years. "We've been approaching the whole subject of wage and price control somewhat the same fashion that a conservative clergyman approaches an erotic statue. He knows he must look at it, but he doesn't want anyone to see him do it."

Galbraith called the wage-price freeze a step forward—"a recognition that fiscal policy and monetary policy can't carry the whole burden of inflation control, and that one has to supplement them with wage and price control."

However, he said, the so-called job expansion part of the Nixon economic message is a step backward.

"It involves, in the main, tax concessions for the well-to-do. The net of the income tax concessions, the repeal of the automobile excise tax and the tax credit for investment all affect middle and upper income spending," Galbraith said.

"At the same time, the President has offset this action by cutting back on federal jobs, suspending federal pay increases, postponing welfare reform, postponing revenue sharing—all things which can be guaranteed to put money into the economy.

Spectacular Pictures of a Tornado

By LEW FERGUSON
Associated Press Writer

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Henry Perez, a Kansas highway patrol trooper, has captured on film a spectacular sequence of pictures of a developing tornado.

The highway patrol made the pictures available to The Associated Press for dissemination as a public service.

On a storm night in May 1970 on the flat Kansas prairie about 25 miles west of Salina, Perez, 28, and a fellow highway patrolman pulled off Interstate 70 in their patrol cars to perform tornado spotter duty. This is a regular function of the patrol in this state, in the heart of America's "Tornado Alley."

Tornadoes develop along squall lines when cool northern air moving southward across the midwestern plains overruns warm, moist air which has pushed northward from the Gulf of Mexico.

A tornado is a funnel-shaped, ominously dark cloud with winds swirling counterclockwise at up to 300 miles an hour. It travels along a path—usually southwest to northeast—at a speed of 25 to 40 miles an hour, dealing death and devastation if it dips into populated areas.

The tornado Perez shot was in open country. It caused only minor field damage and downed a few trees before rising again.

Perez had with him a 35mm Sears single lens reflex camera—a standard piece of equipment for the troopers to shoot highway accident pictures.

What Perez recorded was a bulge protruding downward out of a boiling cloud about a quarter of a mile from the two troopers. "I got it right from the beginning," he said, "and just kept shooting as it progressed."

Perez continue to shoot the developing tornado until its long elephant-trunk funnel had dipped to the earth and began stirring up dust.

The trooper shot 20 exposures within 5 to 7 minutes by his own estimation, with the camera set on automatic for both the exposure adjustment and the shutter speed.

"I really did it just because I like to take pictures of something unusual," Perez said. "I don't like to take pictures as a hobby."

The pictures were filed away at the Kansas highway patrol headquarters until this summer when the National Weather Service and The Associated Press learned of their existence and obtained permission from Col. William Albott, patrol superintendent, to use them.

GOD Believes in You...

When He asks you to remember that He sent His son to remind you of His love; When He sees you struggling from a sea of cynicism and doubt; When He hears you speak out for right; When He senses your belief in all people regardless of color or creed; When He sees you burying your prejudices to do kindness to the careless, show concern for the lonely and offer love to the lost.

Certainly God moves closer to you when He feels your confidence in yourself is alive and your faith in the future is secure; When He sees you working together for others for a better community, supporting law and order and striving to banish poverty from the earth;

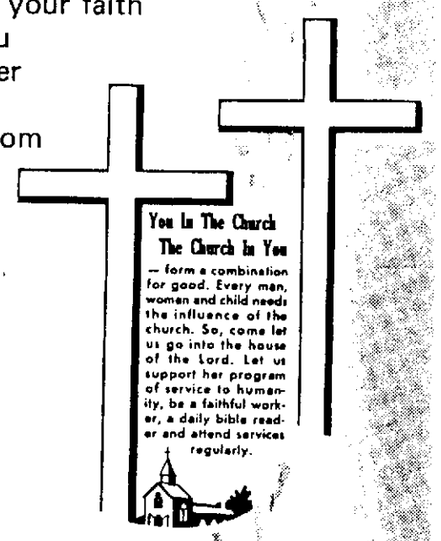

when He sees you and your family, even the little ones, in your place of worship, proclaiming your faith with your presence.

Then you are showing your belief in God.

You are living up to His belief in you.

Revolution Brewing in Bolivia

By HAROLD OLMOS
Associated Press Writer

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Bolivia's leftist military government mobilized support today to meet the challenge of civilian and military rebels who seized control of the eastern half of the country.

The five leftist political parties formed a "military staff" to defend the government and arranged a meeting with President Juan Jose Torres to ask that he arm members of the parties and the labor unions.

A "presidium" of party leaders also ordered workers to occupy their work sites if the rebel movement progresses "a single step further."

The unions already have their own militia, and these troops were reported ready to go into action to defend La Paz.

Santa Cruz, the nation's second largest city, fell to the insurgents Thursday night with little resistance, and some army units went over to the rebels.

The government declared a nationwide state of emergency.

Torres said in a broadcast Thursday night that he was in control "throughout the country" and had "the majority backing of the nation and the armed forces," but a high government official admitted that Santa Cruz was "practically in the hands of the rebels."

The labor unions, which helped bring the leftist regime to power more than 10 months ago, called for strikes to protest the uprising.

The Bolivian Workers Confederation urged members to "answer Fascist violence with revolutionary violence." Groups of armed students and workers carried red flags through the streets of La Paz and shouted slogans of support for the leftist government against "the Fascist right."

The rebellion broke out in Santa Cruz after an antigovernment demonstration staged by two opposition parties. Leaders of the Nationalist Revolutionary Movement and the Bolivian Socialist Falange told the gathering that the parties were forming a Nationalist Popular Front "to keep the country from falling into the hands of communism."

Torres had accused the two parties earlier of trying to oust him, and the government announced Wednesday it had arrested 40 military men and civilians for plotting against it.

The crowd demanded the release of political prisoners, and other demonstrators set fire to Radio Pirai, which was taken over three months ago by labor unions. Police used tear gas to break up the demonstration, but the crowd formed again and street fighting erupted. A noncommissioned officer was killed and a civilian was seriously wounded.

COL. ORAN HENDERSON will go to trial at Ft. Meade, Md., Aug. 23 on charges of covering up the My Lai massacre when he was stationed in Vietnam. He has pleaded innocent to the charges.

Tank Battle Rages for Eighth Day

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese tanks and infantrymen battled North Vietnamese forces along the demilitarized zone for the eighth day Thursday and fighting also erupted in the flatlands of eastern Cambodia, military spokesmen reported today.

Thirty-seven North Vietnamese and 17 South Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed and three South Vietnamese wounded in the second major battle this week around Camp Carroll on the western end of the DMZ.

The fighting broke out shortly after noon Thursday about 1½ miles northwest of Carroll, headquarters of the 2nd Regiment of the 1st South Vietnamese Infantry Division and a base for American artillery.

Later in the day, a South Vietnamese armored column clashed with North Vietnamese troops farther east just outside of Fire Base Charlie 2. The cavalrymen reported killing eight enemy without suffering any casualties.

Revised reports from the field said that South Vietnamese artillery—rather than American as previously reported—had been lifted out of Fire Base Sarge, west of Camp Carroll. There was speculation the move was made in anticipation of a ground attack on Sarge. Nearby bases including Carroll, have enough artillery to support Sarge.

U.S. B52 bombers mounted heavy strikes along the DMZ for the ninth consecutive day in campaign to slow the North Vietnamese offensive.

In eastern Cambodia, a South Vietnamese armored column with infantrymen battled North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops 11 miles northeast of Neak Luong, astride the Saigon-Phnom Penh highway.

Six South Vietnamese were killed and 21 wounded, while five enemy troops were reported killed.

Labor Revolts Against Freeze

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Declaring there are too many exemptions in President Nixon's wage-price-rent freeze, organized labor has revolted and asked Congress to impose more equitable controls. AFL-CIO President George Meany, in a scorching attack on Nixon that was backed by most other labor leaders — the teamsters were a notable exception — said the freeze will halt all workers' wage hikes but won't halt inflation because not all prices are frozen.

"Eggs, fruits and vegetables — which every housewife must buy for her family—are exempt from the freeze. The 10-per-cent border tax on imports will be passed on to the consumer," Meany said.

Interest rates, that affect living costs, and business profits are also exempt from the freeze, he complained.

The 77-year-old, cigar-chomping ex-plumber accused Nixon of deliberately misleading Americans about the gravity of economic problems, and called on Congress to kill Nixon's requested business tax credit, arguing it would enrich corporations without creating new jobs for the nation's 5.3 million unemployed.

Meany, backed by the full executive council of the 13.6-million-member labor federation, also said Congress should enact controls on profits and interest rates, expenses accounts, stocks and bonds and all other forms of income if the freeze remains on wages and prices.

Teamsters Union President Frank Fitzsimmons, representing 2 million workers in the nation's largest union, said teamsters will follow the President's requests.

Fitzsimmons also criticized the lack of controls on profits, dividends and interests but he praised the general action as "a bold measure to preserve the economy of this nation."

Meany said he doesn't believe Nixon plans to end the freeze at the end of 90 days in mid-November.

He urged unions to cancel any labor contracts under which scheduled wage hikes are frozen by Nixon's order, and to strike if necessary to win more wage increases to go into effect when the freeze is lifted.

Meany suggested unions might consider their contracts nullified by Nixon if "contractual provisions are impaired and members suffer losses."

Hearing Short After Order Makes It Open

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A scheduled hearing by the State Police Commission was cut short Thursday after attorneys for a dismissed State Trooper obtained a temporary injunction to force the commission to make the appeal hearing open to the public and news media.

The trooper, Billie G. Davidson of Des Arc, was fired on a charge of having accepted money from city police at Hazen. Davidson said he had been accused of making arrests, attributing the arrests to Hazen policemen, then splitting the fees with the policemen.

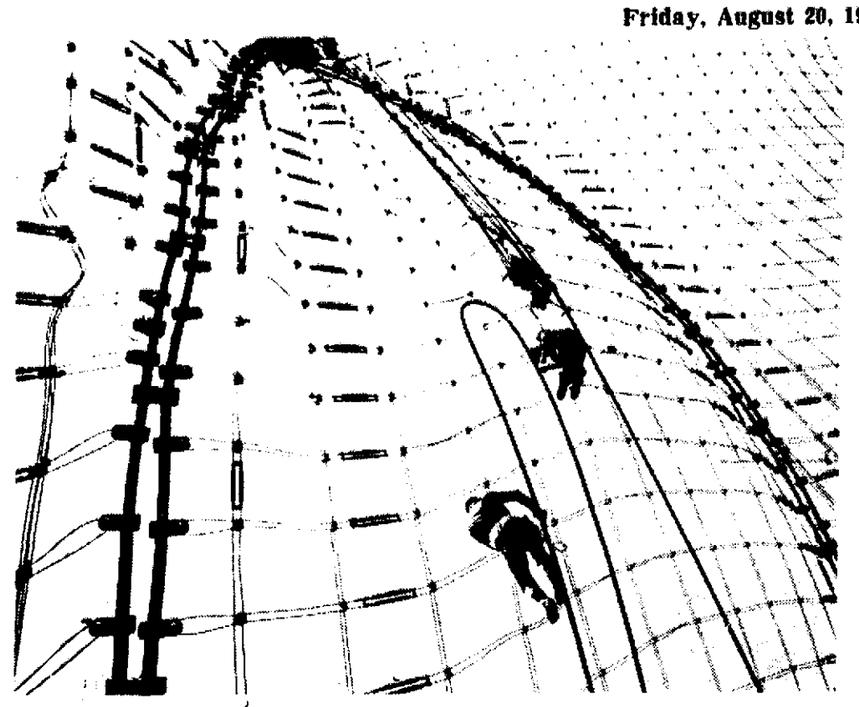

Jerry Screeton, Hazen Mayor, and two other attorneys went before Chancellor Kay Matthews of Little Rock at noon Thursday and obtained a temporary injunction prohibiting the Commission from holding a closed hearing.

When the hearing convened, J. E. Dunlap of Harrison, commission chairman, read a prepared statement in which he said the commission learned that the injunction had been issued and that it was a legal issue of great importance.

Dunlap said the hearing would be postponed until the issue of the injunction could be resolved.

At that point, Screeton made a lengthy appeal to the commission, saying Prairie County residents had spent about $1,000 getting the witnesses on hand and urged the commission in the interest of the public to proceed with the hearing.

Davidson, 41, was formally fired July 22. He was a corporal and had been with the State Police for 11 years.

APPARENTLY CAUGHT in a giant web, construction men helped spin it themselves. The 90-thousand-square-yard web will be roofed with plastic plates as a weather protection as work proceeds on the site of the 1972 Olympic Games in Munich, West Germany.

gates complaints against policemen. Bentley conducted the investigation against Miller and Patrolmen Doyle Webb and Ronnie E. Phillips, who also were fired over the alleged beating. The three denied any willful mistreatment of the burglary suspects and have appealed their dismissal.

The association is demanding that Bentley be removed and his investigative powers be vested in a special police committee to be composed of members from all ranks in the department.

Guards were also demanded for Webb and Phillips.

A statement read by Lynch said that although suicide had been ruled in Miller's death, Miller had a $5,000 price on his head, and the other policemen feel that his death was not self-inflicted.

Pros. Atty. Jim Guy Tucker said Thursday night that scientific evidence and information about the private life of Miller proved "conclusively" that his death was suicide.

Tucker said that unless new evidence was presented, there would be no further investigation into the officer's death.

Gene Worsham, attorney for the fired policemen, refused to accept the ruling and said the death was murder by professionals.

Little Rock Police Chief Gale Weeks and other city officials have refused to comment on Miller's death or the threatened walkout.

Officials held a long meeting Thursday afternoon but Public Information Officer Lt. Walter Simpson's only remark following the meeting was, "the city would be policed."

Harold Brueggeman, director of the state Department of Public Safety, said Thursday State Police troopers would be available to patrol Little Rock if they were needed.

Brueggeman said he had been in contact with the Little Rock police about the possibility of using troopers to patrol the city in the event of a walkout, but that no formal request had been made.

GOVERNOR OF

tal of Austin.

As he spoke, President Nixon was en route by air to Dallas to speak before the annual convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Federal law provides a penalty of $5,000 for each violation of a wage-price freeze ordered by the president.

Smith said no agency head who complies with his order would be liable.

Shortly after Nixon's plane landed at Dallas, Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler issued an administration statement which said:

"It appears that the governor of Texas, for motivations of which only he is aware, is seeking to single out a group of Texans for preferential treatment. We don't think any Texan wants that, particularly at a time when all the nation is banding together to defeat inflation and at a time when many Americans are being requested to make temporary sacrifices for the good of all."

Ziegler declared he thought Texans would "be as disappointed in the governor's proclamation as all of the nation is."

"It's hard to believe that the governor would put himself in a position to deliberately flout the wage-price freeze, which was imposed to cure a basic problem in this country—inflation—the success of which will benefit all Americans."

Smith told all state agency heads to comply with the General Appropriations Act, which takes effect Sept. 1 and includes a 6.8 per cent pay hike for the 62,000 rank-and-file state employes at a cost of $20 million.

The bill raises Smith's pay from $55,000 to $58,000 a year.

Smith also told state officials to obey the State Education Code, which provides automatic pay raises for school teachers.

The Texas State Teachers Association estimates half the state's 130,000 teachers had contracts starting before Aug. 15. Estimated cost of all teacher raises is $40 million in state and local funds over the year starting Sept. 1.

Freeze Has Bruised the Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials deny defeat, but Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's image was bruised by his department's retreat in a wage-freeze skirmish with Treasury Secretary John B. Connally.

Laird has been rated a strongman in the Cabinet because of his many years as confidant and adviser to President Nixon, coupled with influence on Capitol Hill.

But Cabinet newcomer Connally won out in an open test, suggesting he may have more clout with the President in some respects.

The issue was whether the Pentagon could pay length-of-service salary increases to military men during Nixon's 90-day wage freeze.

On Wednesday, Pentagon spokesman Jerry Friedheim said officers and enlisted men would get longevity boosts during the period, along with promotions, bonuses and other benefits normally due them. Length-of-service stepups are written into law, he noted.

"The secretary of defense has the authority to run his department and this is our decision now," Friedheim said.

Although Laird was away on vacation, Pentagon sources said he knew of the position Friedheim would state to reporters.

Defense spokesmen declined to discuss what went on between officials of the Pentagon and the Cost of Living Council headed by Connally. But other sources acknowledged that neither Laird nor Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard discussed the matter with Connally before Friedheim outlined the Pentagon position Wednesday.

A Treasury official said "there was a breakdown" in communication.

But Packard did confer with Connally Wednesday night, officials said. By that time the Pentagon's claimed freeze exemption was all over the front pages and complaints were rising that the military shouldn't get special treatment.

Thursday morning, Connally jolted defense leaders with the flat assertion in a nationwide television interview that the Pentagon had made a mistake.

"I don't know by what authority they did it," Connally said of Pentagon officials. "I assure you that action had not been either considered or condoned by the Cost of Living Council."

vene."

The failure to agree on a unified policy came after negotiations that began Thursday morning and continued until nearly 2 a.m. today.

Britain's representative, Chancellor of the Exchequer Anthony Barber, conferred with the European ministers early in the evening and told them his government wanted to cooperate but intended to open the London exchange Monday with fixed rates but a wider permissible range of fluctuation.

The ministers were unable to overcome the differences between Finance Ministers Karl Schiller of West Germany and Valery Giscard d'Estaing of France.

The German wanted West European currencies to float more or less freely, as the West German mark and Dutch guilder have done since May. The Frenchman, fearing the effect on France's exports, opposed allowing the value of the franc to rise against the dollar, as it would if allowed to float.

France is expected to set up a double rate system: A controlled one for trade and official transactions and a free market for speculative and investment purposes. This system also was urged by the advisory executive commission of the Common Market. Belgium has been using such a system since the monetary crisis in May.

A joint statement issued at the end of the meeting said that President Nixon's new policy of no longer allowing foreign dollar holdings to be redeemed in gold and his imposition of a 10 per cent tax on imports shows the need for a reform of the international monetary system and a change in official exchange rates.

It said the Common Market countries—France, West Germany, the Netherlands, Italy, Belgium and Luxembourg—will proposed changes at the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund in Washington at the end of September. The finance ministers will meet again Sept. 13 to try to work out agreed proposals.

Nixon Wants to Stay No. 1 Militarily

MORAN, Wyo. (AP) — President Nixon, arguing cross-country that his new economic program will help keep the nation No. 1 monetarily, is adding a plea that the United States remain No. 1 militarily.

After spending Wednesday night at nearby Grand Teton National Park, Nixon was bound for Dallas, Tex., and the annual convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

There, it was understood, he would appeal anew for his many-faceted blueprint aimed at righting the nation's economic ills at home and abroad.

However, he intended in his speech to the veterans to place new emphasis on maintaining American defenses.

The chief executive, taking 2½ days to cross the continent for a two-week stay at his California home, has been under some political pressure, especially from conservatives in his own party to do more to maintain the nation's military. Grumbling on this score was accelerated by his announcement last month that he plans to visit Communist China.

Trouble Brews in Land of Oz

By ERNESTINE GUGLIELMO

A BLOW TO THE UNDERGROUND — The editors of England's Oz Magazine were found guilty of the charges of publishing obscene articles. Richard Neville, age 29, was sentenced to 15 months with recommendation for deportation. Felix Dennis, age 24, got nine months and Jim Anderson, age 33, got 12 months.

During and after the trial, London streets were filled with supporters of this underground publication. In addition to the street support, there was a benefit art show and a benefit record. Some of the names behind the art show were Andy Warhol, John Lennon, Yoko Ono and Germaine Greer. John and Yoko wrote the record which is called "God Save U's, the Elastic Oz Band." The proceeds from both these benefits will go to Oz for legal fees.

After the court decision, young supporters burned a life-size effigy of trial judge Michael Argyle outside Central Criminal Court in London. Reactions in America have been much milder, so it doesn't look like any of the underground papers here are worried about similar actions being taken against them. Even sympathy with the plight of Oz has been mild. Record sales for the Oz cause haven't been too good, according to a spokesman for Apple records.

FOR A GOOD CAUSE — A group of 50 recent high school graduates from Racine, Wis., organized a unique fund raiser for Muscular Dystrophy. It was a Monopoly marathon. Teams of four playing four-hour shifts raised $1,200 for the charity besides breaking the world's record for continuous Monopoly play. They played for 800 hours, breaking the previous record of 754 hours, set in 1968 in Hattiesburg, Miss.

SUPPORTERS OF THE BRITISH underground magazine Oz sit outside London's Central Criminal Court as they watch a life-size effigy of trial judge Michael Argyle go up in flames.

FRAIL FISH MONGER — The smell of fresh fish and the sight of all those old boats that were once an important part of the fishing industry transport a visitor to New York's Fulton Fish Market to another world.

There was no better place to hear a new singer who has been working at the market for the past six years. The singer is James Late, who left computer programming because he became "part of the machine" and joined the Fulton Fish Market crew on a full-time basis. Late doesn't look like he belongs with his muscle-bound co-workers, strong-armed men who lift 150-pound fish crates. He's thin and frail-looking, with a voice to match.

But James Late succeeds in conveying a life style that is rarely discussed: the life of hard workers with very little money. Their tough nicknames, their gambling habits and resignation to their way of life are all there in his album called "Fulton Fish Market." James gives insight into the real working class America.
